

Contents

List of Figures vii

List of Tables ix

Foreword xi

Preface xiii

Introduction: Pedagogy and Practice in Heritage Studies 1

Susan J. Bender and Phyllis Mauch Messenger

1. Archaeology in School: Student Learning Outcomes 9
Jeanne M. Moe
2. Archaeology in School: Tapping into Histories and Historical Inquiry 30
Charles S. White
3. Assessing Student Learning in Heritage Studies: What Does It Mean for Students to “Understand” Archaeological Ethics? 50
Alicia Ebbitt McGill
4. The Challenges of Curriculum Change and the Pedagogy of Public Archaeology and CRM at the University of South Florida 72
Thomas J. Pluckhahn
5. Teaching Heritage in the Field: An Example from Menorca, Spain 94
Ricardo J. Elia, Amalia Pérez-Juez, and Meredith Anderson Langlitz
6. Educating Students about the Modern Realities of Exploring the Ancient Middle East 112
Sandra Scham

7. Do the Homeless Have Heritage? Archaeology and the Pedagogy of Discomfort 129
Elizabeth Kryder-Reid
8. Learning to Listen 148
A. Gwynn Henderson and Nicolas R. Laracuenta
9. Experiencing Antiquity in the First Person through Archaeological Fiction: The Pedagogical Opportunities of BACAB CAAS 165
Lewis C. Messenger Jr.

Further Exploration

- Identity and Heritage: A Faculty Interview on the Use of Image in the Classroom 179
Susan J. Bender
10. Connecting the Dots: Teaching Archaeology and Social Relevance 185
Shereen Lerner and Richard Efland
11. Making Connections in Food, Foraging, and Farming 198
Frances M. Hayashida

List of Contributors 213

Index 217