

Contents

Foreword xi
Nashid Madyun

Acknowledgments xii

Introduction 1
Jacki Levine

Part I. Beginnings

1

The First Floridians 12

They survived many millennia of a changing environment until disease and deadly conflict came from across the sea.

Jerald T. Milanich

2

Who Started the Myth of the Fountain of Youth? 20

Exploring the murky beginnings of Florida's most enduring fable.

J. Michael Francis

3

The Real First Thanksgiving 25

Half a century earlier—and 1,200 miles south—a feast of gratitude.

Michael Gannon

4

Uncovering Fort Mose 28

In America's first free Black town, enslaved Africans found sanctuary and liberty.

Kathleen Deagan

5

He Persisted 34

Francisco Menéndez escaped slavery, became a militia leader, and then did it all again.

Darcie A. MacMahon

6

How Seashells Saved St. Augustine 37

This modest mollusk displayed a secret strength.

Michael Gannon

7

On the Backs of the Enslaved 42

How Middle Florida and its planter class built wealth and power.

Larry Eugene Rivers

8

Florida Gives Its All to the Civil War 46

Whatever their loyalties, few Floridians were spared the conflict's costs.

Robert A. Taylor

Part II. Florida Comes of Age: Promise and Paradox

9

The Eye of the Beholder 54

Swampy hellhole or perfect paradise, travel writers have portrayed visions of vastly different Floridas.

Casey Blanton

10

Taking the Waters 60

For Victorian-era visitors, Florida held the promise of miracle cures.

Rick Kilby

11

The Florida Century 67

Through boom and bust, this outback became a megastate.

Gary R. Mormino

12

Along the Backroads, 1930s 77

Remembering when Zora and I chased the vanishing folklife of Florida.

Stetson Kennedy

13

Dear Honey 82

Wartime life and letters of Marjorie Kinnan Rawlings.

Betty Jean Steinshouer

14

When the WACs Came Marching In 89

How Mary McLeod Bethune—and the Women's Army Corps—rescued struggling Daytona Beach.

Gordon Patterson

15

The Mighty Orange Faces Its Uncertain Future 94

Changing tastes, stubborn disease put the squeeze on a beloved state symbol.

Gary R. Mormino

16

Recollections of a Space Traveler 99

Former congressman and astronaut Bill Nelson shares the perils that lurked before, during, and after his historic mission.

Interview with Bill Nelson

by Rick Edmonds

17

Memoirs of a Child of the Space Program 105

Blasts from the past, in a time and place like no other.

Andrea Brunais

18

Florida's Fields of Dreams 112

How sports have boosted our fortunes and, at times, healed our divides.

Steven Noll

19

The Mouse That Roared Quietly 122

With secrecy worthy of a spy novel, Walt Disney set his sights on Orlando.

Richard Foglesong

20

How They See Us 128

The small screen portrays a Florida you may not recognize.

Eric Deggans

Part III. All Things Unequal under the Sun

PARALLEL LIVES 138

Growing up in Florida in the 1950s and '60s, two Floridians, one white and one Black, describe wildly different experiences.

21 Raised with Love, Schooled in Cruel Realities 139

In childhood, he learned the harsh lessons of Jim Crow and, finally, the power of being seen.

Bill Maxwell

22 A Sheltered 1950s Childhood, Then an Awakening 149

All this minister's daughter knew was segregation, but slowly her eyes opened to the damage and the loss.

Beverly Coyle

23 That Summer of '64 157

Martin Luther King Jr. and the fight for racial justice in St. Augustine.

David R. Colburn

Part IV. When a Deadly Pandemic Strikes

24 A Lesson in the Pandemic 168

Teaching our young daughter to cope when Dad was on Covid-19's frontlines.

Nila Do Simon

Part V. We Were Strangers Here Ourselves

25 Finding Florida 172

Out of so many puzzle pieces, how can you create one state identity?

Stephen J. Whitfield

26 We Are Here to Enlighten, Not Accuse 177

A Seminole historian urges accuracy as Florida commemorates the Spanish landing.

Willie Johns

27 Observations of a Native Son 183

Former governor and US senator Bob Graham on the "Cincinnati Factor" and why Florida remains the "State of Imagination."

Ron Cunningham

28 Adiós a los Niños 186

Parents waved farewell in sadness and hope, as their children were secreted out of Castro's Cuba.

Jon Wilson

29 When Life Takes Flight 190

Thirty years after fleeing Cuba, Ileana Ros-Lehtinen made history in the US Congress.

Dalia Colón

30 Sweetness of Memory 192

Photographer Andy Sweet poignantly captured the waning days of South Beach's elderly Jewish community before his own life was cut short.

Bill DeYoung

31 What You See When You Look at Me 198

A Haitian immigrant meets her neighbors.

Maude Heurtelou

Part VI. This State of Inspiration

32

Finding a Literary Path Home 204

Learning to love Florida, through the writers who knew it first.

Lauren Groff

33

Many Voices from Afar 206

For 500 years, Florida's literary life has thrived on the state's complexity.

Maurice J. O'Sullivan

34

Echoes in the Wind 212

In search of the poetry of Florida's Native people.

Maurice J. O'Sullivan

35

Harriet Beecher Stowe, Florida Snowbird 217

Winters in a Mandarin cabin transformed her writing and sparked a tourist boom.

Michele Currie Navakas

36

Lift Every Voice and Sing 225

James Weldon Johnson's song for Jacksonville schoolchildren became an anthem for the ages.

Craig Pittman

37

Jack Kerouac's Florida Farewell 232

He found a fertile place to work but no escape from his demons as his road reached its end.

Thomas Hallock

38

Muse over Miami 240

How a hopeless kid from New Jersey became South Florida's "Queen of Crime."

Edna Buchanan

39

Once Upon a Time in Key West 246

Writer Philip Caputo laments what's been lost and what still stirs his soul.

Philip Caputo

40

The Highwaymen 254

Painting fast and selling their dreamy landscapes cheaply, these young Black artists created a lasting vision of a Florida Eden.

Gary Monroe

41

Singing the Songs of Florida 259

A White Springs festival celebrates the elusive music that is Florida folk.

Peter B. Gallagher

42

The Great State of Rock 265

A star-studded group of Florida guitar masters electrified rock and roll.

Bob Kealing

Part VII. Roots and Rivers

43

The Wondrous Gulf 276

How its bounty and its bluster have shaped the story of Florida.

Jack E. Davis

44

The Tales They Tell 283

Fish camps preserve the soul of a vanishing way of life.

Charlie Hailey

45

The Marvelous, Misunderstood Mullet 291

Tracing the storied past of Florida's least respected and most important fish.

Terry Tomalin

46

Florida's Deep-Blue Destiny 296

From the depths of a spring it is clear, we lose connection with the state's waterways at our peril.

Bill Belleville

47

Remembering Bill Belleville 303

His storytelling celebrates the mystery and glory of our state's waterways.

Cynthia Barnett

48

River of Grass 309

How a New England transplant came to champion and name an unloved but extraordinary wetland.

Jack E. Davis

49

Clyde's Quest 316

Neither snakes nor alligators nor giant mosquitoes can keep this photographer from his beloved Everglades.

Jeff Klinkenberg

50

And on to the Sea 322

Thinking of Uncle Cooter, on the banks of the river he gifted to me.

Harry Crews

Index 326

