

Contents

Foreword	vii
Acknowledgments	ix
Introduction: When the Nation's Eyes Were Watching Them	1
1. 409 George Street	12
2. Signs of a New Commitment to Community Progress	46
3. The Trouble with "Washington's Way"	75
4. Triumphs of Moderation	117
5. An Unexpected Rise in Outside Intervention	158
6. The Fight to Preserve Local Control	184
Conclusion: Reaping the Rewards from Investments in Economic Development and Opportunity, 1969–2000	231
Appendix: Increased Employment for Craven County Residents between 1966 and 1980	257
Notes	273
Bibliography	339
Index	351