

Contents

List of Illustrations vii

1. Archaeologies of Listening: Beginning Thoughts 1

Peter R. Schmidt and Alice B. Kehoe

PART I. LISTENING WITH PATIENCE

2. Ethnoarchaeologies of Listening: Learning Technological Ontologies

Bit by Bit 25

Kathryn Weedman Arthur

3. Continuing Writings on Stone 47

Camina Weasel Moccasin

4. Listening and Learning: The Benefits of Collaboration 65

Stephen A. Mrozowski

5. Listening to Experts: The Directions Indigenous Experience
Has Taken the Study of Earth Mounds in Northern Australia 94

Billy Ó Foghlú

6. Listening to History Performed in Pilgrimage 113

Jonathan Walz

7. Local Narratives, Regional Histories, and the Demise of Great
Zimbabwe 131

Innocent Pikirayi

PART II. REACHING FOR EPISTEMIC HUMILITY

8. “Listening to Whom and for Whose Benefit?”: Promoting and Protecting Local Heritage Values 155

George Nicholas

9. Listening and Waiting, Excavating Later 177

Peter R. Schmidt

10. Listening, Hearing, Choosing?: The Challenge of Engaging Archaeology in Conflict Transformation 202

Audrey Horning

11. Sigiriya Rock: Global Heritage Commodified, Local Heritage Forgotten, and Who Is Listening? 224

Jagath Weerasinghe and Peter R. Schmidt

PART III. BIOGRAPHIES OF ARCHAEOLOGIES OF LISTENING

12. A Lineage of Listening 249

Alice B. Kehoe

13. Colonial Encounters of First Peoples and First Anthropologists in British Columbia, Canada: Listening to the Late Nineteenth-Century
Voices of the Jesup North Pacific Expedition 272

Catherine C. Carlson with commentary by Alice B. Kehoe

List of Contributors 283

Index 287