

Contents

List of Figures	ix
List of Tables	xii
Foreword	xv
Preface	xix
Acknowledgments	xxi
1. Setting the Stage for a Bioarchaeology of the Great Irish Famine	1
2. “An entire nation of paupers”: Contextualizing Poverty and Famine in Mid-Nineteenth-Century Ireland and Kilkenny	20
3. A Life Endured in Poverty: A Social Bioarchaeology of the “Deserving Poor”	59
4. Institutionalization as the Last Resort: Famine Diseases, Mortality, and Medical Interventions	115
5. The Bioarchaeology of the Human Experience of Famine and Disaster: Shedding New Light on the Realities of the Great Irish Famine	180
6. Conclusion	194
Appendix	199
Notes	233
References	237
Index	273