

Contents

List of Illustrations xi

Acknowledgments xiii

Introduction. Comparsas, Congas, and Chambelonas: Carnival and National Identity in Cuba 1

1. Felipe Pichardo Moya's "La comparsa": Afro-Cuban Carnival as Sinister Spectacle 25
 2. Carnival and Ñañiguismo: Poetic Syncretism in Alejo Carpentier's "Juego santo" 49
 3. Carnival and Afro-Cuban Ritual in Nicolás Guillén's "Sensemayá: canto para matar una culebra" 79
 4. "Comparsa habanera," Emilio Ballagas's Emblematic Contribution to Afrocubanismo 108
 5. Drumming Up the Black Vote: Chambelonas and Cuban Electoral Politics in José Zacarías Tallet's "Quintín Barahona" 140
 6. "La conga prohibida": Felix B. Caignet's Response to Carnival Controversy in Santiago de Cuba 160
 7. Representations of Afro-Cuban Carnival in Three Poems by Marcelino Arozarena 181
 8. An Outsider on the Inside: Alfonso Camín's "Carnaval en la Habana" 213
- Epilogue. Carnival and Cultural Essence 253
- Appendix. A Brief Anthology of Poems Inspired by Afro-Cuban Carnival 277
- Notes 299
- Works Cited 313
- Index 327