Contents

Preface: Understanding the South vii

Introduction 1

Brian Ward

1. Caryl Phillips, David Armitage, and the Place of the American South in Atlantic and Other Worlds 8

Brian Ward

2. Early Southern Religions in a Global Age 45

Jon Sensbach

3. “A Most Unfortunate Divel . . . without the Prospect of Getting Anything”: A Virginia Planter Negotiates the Late Stuart Atlantic World 61

Natalie Zacek

4. Revolutionary Refugees: Black Flight in the Age of Revolution 81

Jennifer K. Snyder

5. The Case of Jean Baptiste, un Créole de Saint-Domingue: Narrating Slavery, Freedom, and the Haitian Revolution in Baltimore City 104

Martha S. Jones

6. Ending with a Whimper, Not a Bang: The Relationship between Atlantic History and the Study of the Nineteenth-Century South 129

Trevor Burnard

7. Was U.S. Emancipation Exceptional in the Atlantic, or Other Worlds? 149

Jeffrey R. Kerr-Ritchie
8. The Textual Atlantic: Race, Time, and Representation in the Writings of AME Bishop Levi Jenkins Coppin 170
   Leigh Anne Duck

   Kathleen M. Gough

10. Princess Laura Kofey and the Reverse Atlantic Experience 218
    Natanya Keisha Duncan

11. Dish-Washing in the Sea of Ndayaan: What We Make of Our Souths in Atlantic World Initiation 239
    Keith Cartwright

List of Contributors 261
Index 265